My family has owned a camp on Lake Moxie since 1972 and we have hiked, rafted, swam, and hunted the Forks area during all seasons. The raw beauty of that area as well as most of Central, Western, and Northern Maine is second to none.

Even considering getting into an agreement with a company who has never had our best interests in mind concerns me. There are bills with no merit, no value of Maine ideals, just money at all costs. The October storm has still not been settled yet some entertain the notion of this being honest!

Maine should buy out this company so it can be run by who it affects, put all of our other energies into solar, wind, and water power.

No one should ever be able to carve out even a 100 ft swath where this line is going through, especially when there is nothing in it but destruction to our natural beauty! Nothing, not even six cents is worth it!!!!!! Phil Houdlette
