Agenda Item #3

MEMORANDUM

To: Commission
From: Jonathan Wayne, Executive Director
Date: December 11, 2019
Subject: Update on Janet Mills Inaugural Committee

This memorandum is to update the Commission on the status of the committee that raised and spent money for Governor Janet Mills' inauguration and inaugural celebration. These two events were held at the Augusta Civic Center on January 2 and 4, 2019, respectively. The "inaugural committee" registered with the Commission on December 6, 2018, along with a separate committee of volunteers and staff who were setting up the new administration (referred to below as the "transition committee"). A 2015 law (enacted through citizen initiative) requires persons accepting donations for a Governor-elect's transition to office or inauguration to register and file two financial disclosure statements with the Commission (1 M.R.S. § 1051).

In late 2019, the inaugural committee received a price quotation of $132,000 from the City of Augusta for food, services, and use of the Augusta Civic Center. In January 2020, the committee received a final invoice in the amount of $194,902, which was $62,902 higher than the price quoted. In order to settle this debt, the committee had to engage in unexpected fundraising. Since February, one consultant has been primarily responsible for fundraising and administrative decisions for the committee. She was also assigned to wind up the affairs of Janet Mills' 2018 campaign committee.¹

The inaugural committee filed six financial disclosure statements on Jan. 2, Feb. 15, May 1, July 26, Sept. 24 and Dec. 9, 2019 (all are attached for your reference, along with the registration form for the committee). The first two statements were required by law and the committee filed the most recent four statements voluntarily at the request of the Commission staff. If you care to look at the registration and statements for the transition committee, those may be found at https://www.maine.gov/ethics/mills_transition.

Since your September meeting, the inaugural committee collected $61,600 in donations and paid off the remaining $69,902 debt to the City of Augusta for use of the Civic Center. In a December 9, 2019 letter (attached), the committee's attorney, Michael E. Carey, says that the committee "is prepared to wind down its work and, as of today, the Committee has a surplus of $6,618." (Carey 12/9/2019 letter, at 1)

Candidate Registrar Emma Burke has reviewed the six financial disclosure statements for compliance with 1 M.R.S. § 1051. To the best of the Commission staff's knowledge, the committees have complied with all of the requirements of the statute, except that the inaugural committee accepted donations after January 31, 2019 in order to pay the debt owed to the Augusta Civic Center. This memo provides you with options for possible enforcement action concerning the acceptance of donations after January 31.

Summary of 2015 transition/inaugural committee law

Transparency provisions

- A transition/inaugural committee is required to file a registration with the Commission that identifies key personnel in the committee. (§ 1051(3)(A))
- Each transition/inaugural committee is required to file two financial disclosure statements (similar to campaign finance reports), which are due on the January 1st and February 15th after the general election. (§ 1051(3)(E))

Financial controls/limits

- All funds received by the transition/inaugural committee must be deposited into a separate bank account. (§ 1051(2))
- The committee may accept donations until January 31st after the general election. (§ 1051(4))
- The law contains no limit on the amount that an individual or organization may donate to a transition/inaugural committee.
- The law does not restrict the sources of donations to a transition/inaugural committee, except that when the Legislature is in session, the committee may not accept a donation from a lobbyist or an organization that has hired a lobbyist.² (§ 1051(5)) This is the same session ban that applies to campaign contributions from lobbyists and their clients to Legislators, constitutional officers, the Governor, and members of their staffs.
- Prior to filing the final financial disclosure statement on February 15th, the committee must dispose of any surplus funds by returning them to donors or donating the funds to charities or to the State. (§ 1051(7))

Factual Background

Two contractors made all operational decisions for the inauguration and the inaugural celebration. (Carey 5/17/2019 letter, at 1-2) The two contractors were supported by a group of twelve volunteers, some of whom dedicated up to full work weeks organizing the inauguration and celebration. Fundraising for the events was initially conducted by two individuals until January 2019, when one of them became unavailable for personal reasons. During February-May 2019, fundraising for the inaugural committee fell to one consultant, ² Lobbyists register with the Commission annually and all registrations expire on November 30th. The First Regular Session of the 129th Legislature began on December 5, 2018. An individual is required to register as a lobbyist once they have engaged in compensated lobbying on behalf of a client for more than eight hours in a calendar month. Thus, a lobbyist can register for a client in December, January, February or even later in the session. The ban on lobbyist contributions does not apply to individuals who are not officially registered as lobbyists.

Megan Gean-Gendron. She was also assigned to wrapping up Gov. Mills’ 2018 political campaign.

To provide you with a sense of the committees’ financial activities, this chart summarizes the cash receipts reported by the committees in their financial disclosure statements:

	Cash received by Inaugural Committee	Cash received by Transition Committee
1/2/2019	$267,640	$25,769
2/15/2019	$117,475	$16,561
5/1/2019	$2,545	n/a
7/26/2019	$10,500	n/a
9/24/2019	$55,000	n/a
12/9/2019	$61,600	n/a
Total	$514,760	$42,330

Beginning in November 2018, Mr. Carey was in regular contact with Candidate Registrar Emma Burke seeking staff guidance on registering and filing financial disclosure statements. The Commission staff’s advice through mid-December was summarized in a December 14, 2018 letter, which is among the enclosed materials. I have also attached a February 13th letter providing advice to Mr. Carey concerning the debt to the Augusta Civic Center.

Comments by Commission Staff

As noted by Commissioners at your June 4th meeting, the transition/inaugural committee law (1 M.R.S. § 1051(9)) states that:

The commission shall administer and enforce this subchapter. A person who violates this subchapter is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000, payable to the State and recoverable in a civil action.

Potential finding of violation and penalty

Since your June 4th meeting, Commissioners have discussed that it might be appropriate to find that the inaugural committee violated 1 M.R.S. § 1051(4) by accepting donations beyond January 31, 2019.

The Commission has discretion whether to assess a penalty for the violation, or not. The penalty provision in 1 M.R.S. § 1051(9) is similar to several statutes in Maine campaign finance law which authorize the Commission to assess, but do not require, a penalty. For example:

- A candidate who accepts an over-the-limit contribution “may be assessed a penalty” of no more than the amount by which the contribution exceeded the limit. (21-A M.R.S. § 1004-A(2))
- A person who makes a false statement or material misrepresentation in a document submitted to the Commission “may be assessed a penalty not to exceed $5,000.” (21-A M.R.S. § 1004-A(5))
- A paid campaign communication that lacks the “paid for and authorized” disclosure statement “may result in a civil penalty” of up to the amount of the expenditure for the communication. (21-A M.R.S. § 1014(4))
- A person who violates the Maine Clean Election Act “is subject to a fine not to exceed $10,000 per violation payable to the fund.” (21-A M.R.S. § 1127(1))

These statutes operate differently than the two late-filing penalty provisions which you administer most frequently for late-filed campaign finance reports, which impose a preliminary penalty. The filer must either pay the preliminary penalty or request a waiver from the Commission. (21-A M.R.S. §§ 1020-A & 1062-A)

Rationales for assessing a penalty

At the June 4th meeting, some Commissioners articulated rationales for assessing a penalty:

- The Commission’s role is to enforce the law as written, even if Commissioners view the law as unnecessarily restrictive.

- To not assess a penalty would be to ignore 1 M.R.S. § 1051(9) and its direction to the Commission “to administer and enforce” the statute.
- Most enforcement matters that come before the Commission relate to financial reporting deadlines. In order to encourage political participants to attend to these deadlines, the Commission has a track record of assessing penalties – even when candidates, treasurers, or other committee officers acted in good faith.
- The Commission needs to strive for consistency. Assessing no penalty in this matter would be inconsistent with past decisions concerning financial reporting and could cause others to argue that the Commission showed favorable treatment to the Mills inaugural committee.

Arguments against a penalty

In its counsel’s December 9, 2019 letter, the committee offers a number of considerations against the assessment of a penalty:

- The committee states that it “was transparent to the public and to the Ethics Commission. It acted in good faith at every step.” The committee claims it went beyond the legal requirements of 1 M.R.S. § 1051, for example by separating the financing of the transition and inaugural activities to ensure that the work of preparing to govern was not funded by registered lobbyists or their clients. (Carey 12/9/2019 letter, at 2)³
- The committee asserts that it “has met every public interest of section 1051.” (Id.) The committee argues that fundraising after January 31st harmed no public or private party, in contrast to filing a campaign finance report late which deprives the public of complete information about election funding prior to an election.” (Id.)
- The committee argues that penalty authority was written into law to address other potential violations that are not present in this case, e.g., failing to transparently report donations, using surplus funds for purposes other than inaugural or transition activities, or accepting large anonymous contributions.

The Commission staff would add one additional consideration:

- In exercising its discretion as to amount of penalty, the Commission may wish to consider the purpose for which the money was raised. The inaugural committee reluctantly raised money after January 31st to pay a legitimate but unexpectedly large debt that could not be ignored. The committee was not raising money after January 31st for the purpose of paying excessive political consulting fees, personal expenses, or to create an ongoing political fund. During the critical policy-making months of February 1st - June 20th, the inaugural committee received relatively little ($2,545), which reduces any concern of political influence from contributors.

Thank you for your consideration of this memo.

1 M.R.S. § 1051. GUBERNATORIAL TRANSITION COMMITTEE

1. Definitions. As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

- A. "Commission" means the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]
- B. "Election cycle" means the period beginning on the day after the general election for any state, county or municipal office and ending on the day of the next general election for that office. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]

2. Transition and inaugural activities; funding. A person may solicit and accept donations for the purpose of financing costs related to the transition to office and inauguration of a new Governor. A person who accepts donations for these purposes must establish a committee and appoint a treasurer who is responsible for keeping records of donations and for filing a financial disclosure statement required by this section. All donations received must be deposited in a separate and segregated account and may not be commingled with any contributions received by any candidate or political committee or any personal or business funds of any person. An individual who has served as a treasurer of any candidate committee or political action committee in the same election cycle may not serve as treasurer of a gubernatorial transition committee.

3. Registration with the commission and financial disclosure statement. A committee established pursuant to this section shall register and file a financial disclosure statement with the commission as required by this subsection.

- A. The committee shall register with the commission within 10 days after appointment of a treasurer. The registration must include the name and mailing addresses of the members of the committee, its treasurer and all individuals who are raising funds for the committee. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]
- B. The financial disclosure statement must contain the names, addresses, occupations and employers of all donors who have given money or anything of value in a total amount exceeding $50 to the committee, including in-kind donations of goods or services, along with the amounts and dates of the donations. Donors who have given donations with a total value of $50 or less may be disclosed in the aggregate without itemization or other identification. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]
- C. Any outstanding loan, debt or other obligation of the committee must be disclosed as a donation. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]
- D. The financial disclosure statement must identify the amounts, dates, payees and purposes of all payments made by the committee. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]

E. An interim financial disclosure statement must be filed by 5:00 p.m. on January 1st following the gubernatorial election and must be complete as of 10 days prior to that date. The final financial disclosure statement must be filed by 5:00 p.m. on February 15th following the gubernatorial election and must be complete as of that date. [2015, c. 1, §1 (NEW).]

4. Limitation on fund-raising activity. A committee established pursuant to this section may accept donations until January 31st of the year following the gubernatorial election.

5. Prohibited donations during a legislative session. A committee established pursuant to this section may not directly or indirectly solicit or accept a donation from a lobbyist, lobbyist associate or employer during any period of time in which the Legislature is convened before final adjournment. A lobbyist, lobbyist associate or employer may not directly or indirectly give, offer or promise a donation to a committee established pursuant to this section during any period of time in which the Legislature is convened before final adjournment.

6. Anonymous donations. A committee established pursuant to this section may not accept an anonymous donation in excess of $50.

7. Disposing of surplus funds. Prior to the filing of the final financial disclosure statement under subsection 3, paragraph E, any surplus funds remaining in the committee's account must be refunded to one or more donors, donated to a charitable organization that qualifies as a tax-exempt organization under 26 United States Code, Section 501(c)(3) or remitted to the State Treasurer.

8. Rulemaking. The commission may establish by routine technical rule, adopted in accordance with Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A, forms and procedures for ensuring compliance with this section.

9. Enforcement and penalty. The commission shall administer and enforce this subchapter. A person who violates this subchapter is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000, payable to the State and recoverable in a civil action.

RE: Mills Inaugural Committee Fundraising

Commissioners:

The Mills Inaugural Committee (the “Committee”) has fully paid the Augusta Civic Center for all its costs associated with the official inauguration and inaugural gala. The Committee is prepared to wind down its work and, as of today, the Committee has a surplus of $6,618. After this meeting, it will donate the surplus to Maine organizations that support survivors of domestic violence. The Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices has indicated that, at its December 18, 2019 meeting, it will consider whether to take enforcement action against the Committee for fundraising after January 31, 2019. See 1 M.R.S. § 1051(4). For the reasons detailed below, the Commission should not assess a civil penalty.

A Gubernatorial Inauguration is a constitutionally prescribed transfer of power. Me. Const. art. V, Pt. 1, §§ 2 & 3; id. art. IX, Pt. 1, § 1. As has been the custom, the 128th Maine Legislature did not appropriate funds for the inaugural ceremony. After a 2015 citizen referendum, the 2019 inauguration was the first to have funding source restrictions, a fundraising deadline and required transparency—policies that Governor Mills supports. See 1 M.R.S. § 1051. The Inaugural Committee was created to organize the official inauguration and an inaugural gala, as explained more fully in the Committee’s May 17, 2019 letter which is attached and incorporated. After the events, the Augusta Civic Center billed the Committee $62,902 more than its final estimate. The Committee worked hard to raise additional donations to pay the higher invoice. The Committee had every incentive to raise the funds as quickly as possible to complete its work, which it did.

Because the Civic Center is publicly-owned, it was paid more than a private owner would have received. The final invoice included charges that had not been included on the Civic Center’s proposal—$26,421 for a “food and beverage charge” and $12,682 for sales tax. The total amount of the final invoice was not supported by an enforceable contract, as

December 9, 2019

Commissioners' earlier questions have anticipated. Were the contract between private parties, a customer would likely have negotiated down the final amount of the invoice. However, because Augusta taxpayers would have been responsible for the difference, the Committee decided not to contest the amount of the invoice when the underlying line items were valid even though not supported by a contract. For this reason, raising donations to wind down the Committee took longer than it otherwise would have.

Throughout this process, the Committee was transparent to the public and to the Ethics Commission. It acted in good faith at every step. The Governor-Elect directed the Inaugural Committee, and associated Transition Committee, to go beyond the citizen referendum's requirements. The Committees separated the financing of the transition and inaugural activities to ensure that the transition activities—the work of preparing to govern—were not funded by donations from registered lobbyists or their employers. Further, I alerted Commission staff to the Committee's potential shortfall on the very day that the Committee's member and I learned of it. Moreover, the Committee has answered every question and provided the Commission with more information, such as pledge amounts, than required by law.

The Committee has met every public interest of section 1051. The Committee respects Maine law and incorporated its requirements into its work. At every turn, it has been prompt and fully forthcoming. The Committee observed the prohibition from in-session fundraising from lobbyists. All donations and payments were reported. Most importantly, no public or private party was harmed by the Committee's fundraising after January 31st. This is a critically significant distinction with Maine's campaign finance enforcement laws that require timely and complete disclosure to ensure that all candidates, voters and third parties have complete information about election funding before an election. That is simply not a factor here. For the reasons above, the Commission should not levy a fine.

Why then did the Legislature authorize the Commission to assess a civil penalty of up to $10,000? See 1 M.R.S. § 1051(9). For potential violations not present here. For example, a large fine might be properly and appropriately assessed upon a committee that does not fully and transparently report donations, id.(2), (3); that accepts anonymous contributions over $50, id.(6); that actively fundraises from lobbyists during a legislative session, id.(5); that uses surplus funds to fund anything other than inaugural or transition activities, id.(7); or, that commingles inaugural or transition funds with private funds, id.(2). Instead, this Committee has transparently reported more information than is required, operated entirely in good faith and moved to resolve this matter as expeditiously as possible.

Throughout this process, the Inaugural Committee has worked in good faith to meet its obligations under law and contract. The Commission should not take enforcement action against the Committee. If it does, it should not assess a penalty and, in any event, no penalty assessment should exceed $500.

RE: Mills Inaugural Committee Fundraising

Commissioners:

Executive Director Jonathan Wayne wrote me, in my capacity as counsel to the Mills Inaugural Committee, to convey your request that the Committee provide information about funds due to the Augusta Civic Center and any fundraising that has been conducted after January 31st or is anticipated in the future. We are submitting this letter to comply with that request, and I plan to attend your June 4, 2019 meeting to answer any questions you may have. Thank you for providing that opportunity.

By way of background, as 11 o'clock approached on election night, it became increasingly clear that Attorney General Mills would win the 2018 Maine gubernatorial election. On Wednesday morning, the Attorney General immediately assumed her role as Governor-Elect and began forming a new administration.

Most of the energy and attention that had previously been devoted to winning the campaign now shifted to preparing to govern. A group of volunteer, subject-matter experts began working, at the Governor-Elect's direction, with members of the outgoing administration to prepare the necessary biennial budget. Meanwhile, the Governor-Elect called together a separate group of volunteers (the "Transition Committee") to begin the process of vetting and appointing candidates for cabinet positions, by managing the suggestions and applications that immediately began to arrive, soliciting candidates that matched the Governor-Elect's policy goals, processing applications and conducting interviews. The Transition Committee created this complex process from scratch, and operated through both paid staff and committed volunteers from across Maine.

While the Governor-Elect and incoming Chief-of-Staff Jeremy Kennedy drove the preparations for the new administration, paid staff and volunteers organized the official inauguration and the inaugural ball. Mr. Kennedy is the sole member of the Inaugural Committee and exercised primary budget authority and oversight. The two people who held fundraising and campaign finance compliance responsibilities for the Mills for Governor campaign were the Inaugural Committee’s fundraisers and also responsible for its compliance with 1 M.R.S. § 1051. Two contractors made all operational decisions for the inauguration and inaugural ball. They were supported by twelve devoted and capable volunteers, some of whom devoted full work weeks to the inaugural work for the 6 weeks before the inauguration, which included the Christmas and New Year’s Holidays (for ease of reference I will refer to the contractors and volunteers as “Event Organizers”). The Event Organizers divided the organizing work into general functional areas and the responsible person, whether paid or volunteer, liaised directly with the event vendors, including Augusta Civic Center personnel, to accomplish their task. The Event Organizers were supported in many critical ways by a separate volunteer committee.

Meanwhile, the Mills for Governor campaign began raising a significant amount of money to pay off campaign debt that had been accrued through election day.

Constitutional Requirements And Legislative Appropriations

The Constitution provides that a Governor’s term begins the first Wednesday after the first Tuesday of January next following the election. Me. Const. art. V, Pt. 1, § 2. It further provides that on that day, the Secretary of State shall lay the lists returned to the Secretary's office before the Senate and House of Representatives for examination, and they shall determine the number of votes duly cast for the office of Governor. Me. Const. art. V, Pt. 1, § 3. The Legislature made no appropriation for the inauguration, as has been the custom. The Legislature allocated $5,000 for the Governor-Elect’s transition. The State of Maine also provided the Governor-Elect’s transition team with a room in the basement of the Cross Office Building.

1 M.R.S. § 1051

Financial Transparency Of a New Governor’s Transition to Office and Inauguration

In 2015, the people enacted 1 M.R.S. § 1051 by referendum, which requires the financial disclosure of donations and payments related to the transition to office and inauguration of a new Governor. This was the first Governor-Elect’s transition and inauguration subject to the new law.

The people’s purpose was clear—the financing of a new Governor’s transition to office and inauguration must be transparent. The Governor-Elect determined to go beyond the law’s requirements and to separate the financing of the transition activities from the financing of the inaugural activities, and to ensure that the transition activities—the work of preparing to govern—were not funded by donations from registered lobbyists or their employers. She directed the creation of a separate Transition Committee in order to comply with the people’s will and the spirit of the new law.

And yet, as the statute was put into practice for the first time, 1 M.R.S. § 1051 appeared to contain ambiguities and generalities that in many ways made its practical application unclear. By statute, the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices was authorized to promulgate rules to detail the forms and procedures for ensuring compliance. The Commission has not yet promulgated rules. In order to comply with statute's provisions, I consulted with the Ethics Commission staff ("Staff") on multiple occasions, beginning two days after election day, to ensure that the Mills Transition and Inaugural Committees had every guidance then available, and that the Staff understood the Committees' plans.

Mills Inaugural Committee and Augusta Civic Center Invoice

The Inaugural Committee's budget included the amount of $132,000 for the use of Civic Center for the official inauguration and the inaugural ball, which aligned with the amount of the initial Civic Center invoice received. The Committee did not receive another preliminary invoice or other official estimate of the total charge before the final invoice. Yet, the Civic Center line item totals and item counts changed as the two events took shape. Those changes were not transmitted back to those responsible for fundraising and compliance or to Mr. Kennedy. The next Civic Center invoice was the final invoice sent on January 15, 2019 in an amount that was $62,902 higher than the preliminary invoice on which the budget was based. This final invoice included a 20 percent food and beverage charge, in the amount of $26,421, which was not included on the initial invoice.

Around January 15th, the person primarily responsible for fundraising was experiencing urgent and immediate personal issues that entirely removed the person's attention from Inaugural Committee tasks. It was only on January 25, 2019 that Mr. Kennedy and I became aware of the amount of the invoice and the existence of the budget discrepancy. That very day, I met with Staff to notify them of the issue. The Committee was required by 1 M.R.S. § 1051(4) to cease fundraising by January 31st. The other fundraiser worked valiantly in the remaining week, from Israel on account of a pre-planned trip, but was unable to materially affect the balance in such a short timeframe. After January 31st, I again met with Staff to seek guidance regarding how the Committee could meet its obligation to the Civic Center.

Since then, based on Staff guidance, the Inaugural Committee has continued fundraising. However, most of its activity to date has been administrative in nature. The Committee and the campaign have transferred primary responsibility for fundraising and administrative decision-making to Megan-Gean Gendron. Megan focused first on transferring records and learning the information systems and ensuring her authority to act on behalf of the entities.

A Governor's inauguration is a Constitutionally prescribed transfer of power. Maine's practice has been to vest the incoming Governor, or her supporters, with the responsibility of funding the ceremony. This year, for the first time, 1 M.R.S. § 1051 specified how fundraising shall be done. Less than two days after Governor Mills won the election, the Mills Inaugural Committee initiated a detailed conversation with Ethics Commission Staff to ensure that it met the requirements of the statute. Indeed, the Governor-Elect directed her staff and supporters to go beyond the law's requirements to meet the peoples' expectations of transparency and good government; she directed us to separate the funding of the transition to power and the development of the new administration's first budget and policy from fundraising from members of the lobby and their employers. Throughout this process, the Mills Inaugural Committee repeatedly sought, in good faith, guidance from Ethics Commission Staff.

The committee has made progress in resolving the debt. To date, it has paid $75,000 of the originally outstanding $195,000 and the committee has on hand nearly $53,000 that will be used to further reduce the remaining amount. The committee will work vigorously to continue to pay off the debt in the coming months.

Re: Advice – Gubernatorial Transition/Inaugural Committee

Dear Mr. Carey:

Thank you for seeking advice from the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices concerning registration and financial reporting by the transition/inaugural committee of Governor-elect Janet Mills. This letter represents a consolidation of guidance provided to you last month through a November 8, 2018 letter from Candidate Registrar Emma Burke, and various emails and telephone conversations with the Commission staff.

Registration

A transition/inaugural committee established pursuant to 1 M.R.S.A. § 1051 must register with the Commission. The committee must be registered with the Commission within 10 days of appointing a treasurer; a treasurer must be appointed by the Governor-elect once donations have been accepted. The statute does not specify a date range within which the treasurer must be appointed; however, the Commission staff suggests appointing the treasurer no later than 10 days after accepting donations.

The Transition/Inaugural Committee Registration form must include the names and mailing addresses of the members of the committee, the treasurer, and all individuals who are raising funds for the committee. Only individuals who are primarily responsible for decision-making and/or fundraising for the transition/inaugural committee are required to be named on the registration as committee members and/or fundraisers. The committee does not need to list anyone whose transition/inaugural activities are unrelated to soliciting, receiving or spending money. Volunteer fundraisers who are acting externally of the transition/inaugural committee are not required to be named on the registration; only those individuals who are tasked with fundraising responsibilities by the official transition/inaugural committee are required to be included on the registration. The form must be signed by the treasurer of the committee.

ETH - 10

You informed Emma Burke that the Governor-elect was interested in forming two committees – one for the inauguration and one for transitioning state government to a new administration. In a November 16, 2018 email, I advised (after conferring with Commission Counsel) that the Commission staff believes the two-committee organization would comply with 1 M.R.S.A. § 1051, provided that the committees have separate bank accounts and each committee registers and files two disclosure statements.

Donations

The transition/inaugural committee may accept donations until January 31, 2019. All funds received for purposes of the transition to office or the inauguration must be deposited into the separate bank accounts, and may not be deposited in another account containing any personal or business funds or the campaign funds of any candidate or political committee.

The statute does not restrict the sources of donations to the committee, other than lobbyists, lobbyist associates and their clients during a legislative session (discussed below). The statute also does not place a limit on the amount a person may donate to the committee. The Governor-elect may donate surplus funds from her campaign committee to the transition/inaugural committee (see 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1017(8)(G)).

When the Legislature is in session, the committee may not solicit or accept donations from a person who is registered as a lobbyist or lobbyist associate at the time of the solicitation or donation. The prohibition during the session also applies to a client of a registered lobbyist.

For donors who contribute a total amount in excess of $50, the committee must record and report the donors' names and addresses, and, for individual donors, their occupations and employers. The Commission staff will be expecting the transition/inaugural committee to adhere to the same good-faith practices to request and obtain employment and occupation information as were implemented by the gubernatorial campaign. It is understood that some donors decline to disclose their employment situation to political candidates or to a Governor-elect.

The transition/inaugural committee is prohibited from accepting anonymous donations in excess of $50. Additionally, the Commission staff would like to make the committee aware that candidates for state, county, and local offices in Maine and their committees (other than the Governor-elect) may not use surplus campaign funds to donate to the transition/inaugural committee, as such a donation is not an allowable use of surplus campaign funds under 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1017(8).

The income from sales of $20 tickets to the inaugural event are not considered donations. Please report that income under the heading of Other Receipts on the summary page of the report, along with any food or beverage sales at the event.

Bank Accounts

You advised that the bank of the transition/inaugural committees has suggested opening the committees' accounts as sub-accounts to the existing account for the Janet Mills for Governor campaign. The money in the subaccounts would not be commingled with campaign funds and each account would have a separate statement. The Commission staff believes this organization meets the requirements of 1 M.R.S.A. § 1051.

Paying for Transition Staff

In a November 21, 2018 phone call with Assistant Director Paul Lavin, you explained that most members of the transition staff were formerly staff of the Janet Mills for Governor campaign. The campaign used the services of a payroll processing firm. The guidance from the Commission staff is that the transition/inaugural committees may rely on the Janet Mills for Governor campaign to process payroll for the transition/inaugural committees. The campaign would pay the transition staff from the campaign account, and the transition/inaugural committees would reimburse the campaign for all payroll costs (e.g., salary, taxes, fees, payroll processing fee.) The transition/inaugural committees would include on their financial disclosure statements the amount of salary to each person, as well as taxes and fees.

Reporting

Each transition/inaugural committee is required to file two financial disclosure statements (referred to below as "reports"). The first report ("Pre-Inauguration Report") is due on the January 1st after the election, and must be complete as of 10 days before that date (December 22nd). Because January 1st is a federal and state holiday, the Pre-Inauguration Report is due no later than 5:00 p.m. on January 2nd (see 1 M.R.S.A. § 71(13)). The reporting period for the Pre-Inauguration Report is November 7, 2018 – December 22, 2018.

The second report ("Post-Inauguration Report") is due on February 15th by 5:00 p.m., and must be complete as of that date. Therefore, the reporting period for the Post-Inauguration Report is December 23, 2018 - February 15, 2019.

As mentioned above, each transition/inaugural committee must itemize all donations from donors who have given in excess of $50 total, disclosing the names and addresses of the donors, the type of contributor, and the occupations and employers for individual donors, as well as the dates and amounts of the donations. This is the case for both cash and in-kind donations. The committee may report donations from donors who have given $50 or less in total as an unitemized lump sum.

Each transition/inaugural committee must also report all in-kind donations, which are donations of goods or services with a monetary value. This would include any unreimbursed payments made by the gubernatorial campaign for goods or services for the transition/inaugural committee. The reports must identify the donor information as specified above, as well as a description of the goods or services donated.

Michael E. Carey, Esq.

December 14, 2018

Each transition/inaugural committee must report all payments it made during the reporting period, identifying the payees, payee types, amounts, dates, and purposes of the payments. The date to be used for reporting purposes is the date the payment was made to the payee by the committee. For the Pre-Inauguration Report, the committee should not report unpaid debts or obligations. If unpaid debts and obligations remain as of February 15th, the transition/inaugural committee must report those as in-kind donations from the vendors in the committee's Post-Inauguration Report.

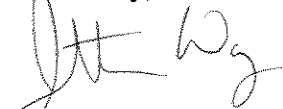

Errors in Reporting

The Commission staff appreciates that fundraising for the inauguration and transition will be conducted in a short time period by multiple individuals, including volunteers who may have little supervision by the transition/inaugural committees. Given all of these factors, if the committees find that they have filed a report that contains omissions or inaccuracies, they will be able to amend the reports. We would appreciate you providing Ms. Burke with one or two days notice if the committees find that amendments are necessary.

Based on principles in Maine campaign finance law and Commission Rules,¹ as long each report is substantially correct the Commission staff does not intend to bring corrections or omissions to the Commission's attention for any finding of violation or consideration of late-filing penalties. If any complaint or request for investigation is filed from an outside source arguing that the reports should be viewed as late or deficient, the Commission staff intends to apply the same mitigating factors set out in 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1020-A(2) (proportionality to public harm, obstacles to complete reporting that were outside the control of the committee, etc.).

Please let me know if you have any questions concerning the advice letter.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Wayne
Executive Director

135 STATE HOUSE STATION
AUGUSTA, MAINE
04333-0135

February 13, 2019

By Email and Regular Mail
Michael E. Carey, Esq.
Janet Mills for Governor
P.O. Box 110
Farmington, Maine 04938

Dear Mr. Carey:

Thank you for meeting with the staff of the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices on February 7, 2019 concerning the plans of the Mills Inaugural Committee to complete its financial activities. We appreciate the committee's ongoing communication with the Commission staff concerning compliance with the gubernatorial transition committee law. (1 M.R.S. § 1051)

Under this law, a transition/inaugural committee:

- must file two financial disclosure statements on the January 1st and February 15th following the gubernatorial election, and
- may accept donations until January 31st.

As we discussed, this is a recent law enacted in 2015 through a citizen initiative that the Commission is administering for the first time. In the opinion of the Commission staff, some of the deadlines in the current law are unworkable – such as the final disclosure deadline of February 15th and a fundraising cut-off date (January 31) that is just a few weeks after the inaugural activities take place.

Acceptance of Donations after January 31

At our February 7, 2019 meeting, you explained that the committee was presented with an invoice from a vendor in an amount significantly higher than the cost quoted by the vendor upon engagement. Until the committee received the invoice, the committee had received no indication from the vendor that the billed amount would be higher than the quoted amount. Although the committee intends to negotiate with the vendor, it is likely the committee will be required to make expenditures that are somewhat higher than the amount of donations in the committee's budget.

The Commission staff appreciates that this unexpected development places the inaugural committee in a difficult position. Nevertheless, the gubernatorial transition committee law states that funds may be accepted until January 31st and no later. (1 M.R.S. § 1051(4)) The Commission and its staff is not authorized by § 1051 to grant a waiver or exception to this January 31st limitation.

Michael E. Carey, Esq.
February 13, 2019

The decision of how to proceed belongs with the inaugural committee. The Commission staff believes that the most practical course of action is to continue raising funds beyond the January 31st limitation in order to resolve the committee's financial commitments. The staff's view and guidance on this is not binding on the Commission which may have a different viewpoint.

The Commission staff is likely to bring this matter up for discussion at an upcoming meeting of the Commission, probably on March 6 or April 30, 2019. If this matter were to be the subject of an enforcement proceeding, the Commission staff would not recommend the assessment of any civil penalty if the Commission were to find that fundraising by the committee beyond January 31 violated § 1051(4).

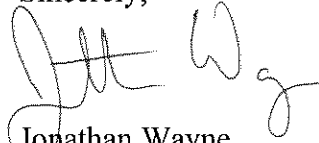

Financial Disclosure

The Commission staff appreciates the inaugural committee's commitment to make full disclosure of its financial activities. Although the law contemplates that a transition/inaugural committee will file a "final" statement on February 15, the Commission staff requests that the committee file a supplemental statement on May 1, 2019. We acknowledge that one or two additional supplemental statements may be required later after May 1st, because the committee has indicated that it will have some financial activities related to payroll taxes or other administrative personnel expenses that will be concluded later in 2019.

With regard to the invoice from the vendor referred to above, the Commission staff suggests listing the amount in the Payments section of the form that the committee will file on February 15. Based on the language of 1 M.R.S. § 1051, the form for the inaugural committee's disclosure statements does not include a section for debts. Please include a notation in the Description field that the amount is not final. Please exclude this amount from the Total Payments sum, because the committee has not paid this amount.

Please contact Candidate Registrar Emma Burke or me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Wayne
Executive Director
